

Lucia Frohofer was born in Graz/Austria and studied violin and pedagogics at the University of Music and Dramatic Art in Graz. After her studies she specialized in playing on period instruments at the Hochschule für Musik und Theater in Leipzig with Prof. Susanne Scholz, with Sigiswald Kuijken in Brussels and with Enrico Gatti in Italy.

She teaches baroque violin at the University for Music and Dramatic Art and violin and chamber music at the Conservatory of Graz where she is also leading the chamber orchestra of this school.

She plays regularly in several chamber music groups like Armonico Tributo Austria, barocco loco Amsterdam or chordae freybergensis, formed her own ensembles (tre paesi, La Gioconda, ...) and is also asked to play in different baroque orchestras, often as concertmaster.

Concerts at several (Early Music) Festivals (Styriarte, Bachfest Leipzig, Ruhr Triennale, Salzburger Festspiele ecc.)

CD productions in Germany, Austria, Italy, Netherlands.

Finalist of the Telemann-Violincompetition in Magdeburg 2005, special price at the Schmelzer-Competition in Melk 2008.